Dear Mr. Hall,

I'm Li Hua from Class 3, Grade 3. I am really excited about the upcoming installation of a multifunctional smart screen at the entrance of our classroom and would like to share a couple of suggestions.

Firstly, an interactive message board would be a valuable addition. It will streamline communication by allowing us to post important announcements and reminders, thus fostering a more connected and engaged community. Secondly, it's better to update the daily menus of the student canteen with clear ingredient labels and nutritional details, which would empower us to make more informed and healthier dietary choices.

I would appreciate it if you could consider my suggestions and I do hope this project will come to fruition soon.

Yours sincerely,
Li Hua

The next morning, Carter and Grandpa headed out early. Grandpa handed him a smaller waveski and helped secure the strap before they paddled out. In the golden sun, Carter, drowsy-eyed, watched in awe as Grandpa skillfully demonstrated how to balance and steer, riding up and down waves effortlessly. Amid the rolling waves, his “odd” grandpa was no longer an old guy but a marvelous waveskier. “Ready, champ?” Grandpa’s shouts brought Carter’s thoughts back. “Yes!” Carter yelled, a flicker of excitement bubbling inside him. Despite frequent tumbles into the cool and salty water, he finally caught “his” first wave, savoring the thrilling rush like never before.

By the end of the morning, Carter was grinning from ear to ear. “I did it, Grandpa! I could ride waves!” Carter exclaimed breathlessly. Grandpa beamed, clapping him on the back. “You sure did, buddy.” While paddling back, Carter had a newfound appreciation for Grandpa and his unusual hobby. Back on the beach, Grandma smiled and asked, “How was it?” “Awesome! I bet my friends will like it, too!” Carter replied proudly. Over the following weeks, Carter and Grandpa shared many early morning waveskiing sessions, creating cherished memories and deepening their bonds. Through these times, Carter realized being “odd” was just a unique way to embrace life’s unexpected joys.
